“Get to Know Me” form

The School-Age Disabilities Work Group has developed a one-page form which you can use as a tool to share useful information about your child with the leaders of community activities he or she participates in - information like: the best way to communicate directions to your child, how your child learns best, how to redirect your child or get his or her attention.

You can also inform activity leaders of the most effective way they can communicate with you and share your child's emergency contact information.

By filling out the form and making copies of it, you can discreetly share helpful information about your child with any of the leaders of activities he or she is involved in.

For a copy of the form, please contact the Collaborative Coordinator at coordinator@claycountycollaborative.org

Disclaimer: The Clay County Collaborative has not solicited any funds from the organizations listed here. This brochure is designed to be informational only and not an advertisement for or an endorsement of any of the organizations listed. If you know of a community organization that was missed in this edition, please contact us as we intend to update the brochure periodically.
